Course Description and Target Audience

This presentation provides an introduction to some of the existing frameworks and models of counseling and therapy supervision. The course will emphasize the main elements of the models as well as strengths and weaknesses of each model, identifying how these models have impacted participants own training. There are no known risks to this presentation.

The target audience is mental health providers (advanced doctoral level psychology trainees, psychologists in practice, master's level clinicians etc).

Learning Objectives

- To identify some of the existing frameworks and models for providing supervision to counseling or therapy trainees.
- To identify strengths and weaknesses for each model or framework.
- To identify what frameworks of models were utilized in participants own training and how they were helpful.
- To identify where participants may be at the their own development as future supervisors and what frameworks or models that resonate most with them at this time in their training.

Video Homestudy Format

CE's for this homestudy training will be earned through completing the following tasks:

- Complete the pre-test questionnaire (10 questions).
- Watch the presentation video and review all provided documents in their entirety.
- Pass the post-test questionnaire with at least 80% correct (8 of 10 questions correct).
- Fill out a program evaluation form.
