

Tom and Annie

Annie (clinic staff) and Tom (psychology intern)

Annie: Hey, thank you so much for being willing to go out, I'm so grateful. I have been exhausted. It's just nice to get out of the office.

Tom: Yes, it's been really busy. I appreciate the break.

Annie: Yea, me too... Hey, I've been meaning to say I saw that Jan Jones was on your schedule. And, oh man, I'm glad she's coming in. I care about her so much. I've been friends with her mom forever, and I'm just so grateful you're going to see her.

Tom: Um... Excuse me?

Annie: Well, Jan's had terrible addiction problems ever since she was a teenager and it's been so hard for both of them. I'm just so glad she's coming in.

Tom: Um...we really can't talk about that here.

Annie: Oh, you're right, I'm sorry. We can talk back at the office. I'm so sorry. Let's talk about something else.
